

We are fortunate to have MWPAI and its exhibitions

Posted Monday, June 10, 2019 4:00 pm

Louis Comfort Tiffany was one of America's preeminent designers of decorative arts and interiors. Under his artistic direction and using enamels, metalwork, precious stones, wood, ceramics, and, of course, glass, the artisans employed at Tiffany Studios fashioned beautiful objects for public commissions and private residences.

He earned international acclaim for his artistic output, receiving prestigious awards in exhibitions across Europe and the United States.

In celebration of his works, Munson-Williams-Proctor Arts Institute Museum of Art, will host "Louis Comfort Tiffany: Treasures from the Driehaus Collection" The exhibit opening June 16 features more than 60 artworks, spanning more than 30 years of Tiffany's prolific career.

The exhibition focuses on Louis Comfort Tiffany's brilliant stained-glass windows, iridescent floral vases, shimmering lamps, and accessories highlighting masterworks never before presented in a comprehensive exhibition.

We are fortunate to have an institute like MWPAI.

Tiffany's technical brilliance in a wide variety of media enabled him to convey his awe of the natural world through a range of objects, from household items to singular masterpieces.

"Louis Comfort Tiffany: Treasures from the Driehaus Collection" was organized by the Richard H. Driehaus Museum and is toured by International Arts & Artists, Washington, D.C. This show is traveling the United States and MWPAI is the only Northeast venue.

The exhibition's lead sponsors are Baird Private Wealth Management and Empire State Development's I Love New York program under the Market New York initiative.

Associate sponsors: Meyda Lighting, Sangertown Square, and Elizabeth R. Lemieux, Ph.D, who has generously sponsored related programming

City may acquire Peterson's Pet parcel

By Steve Gaudin
The city of Rome is considering purchasing a large parcel of land owned by Peterson's Pet, a company that has been in operation since 1964. The parcel, located on the east side of town, is currently zoned for residential use but is being considered for a change to industrial or commercial use. The city council will vote on the matter at its next meeting.

Anti-Keystone oil pipeline lawsuit dismissed

By Steve Gaudin
A lawsuit filed by environmental groups to block the Keystone XL oil pipeline has been dismissed by a federal judge. The lawsuit, filed in 2015, argued that the pipeline violated the National Environmental Policy Act. The judge ruled that the pipeline project was not a major federal action and therefore did not require an environmental impact statement.

State prepares to OK sports betting in four upstate casinos

By Steve Gaudin
The state of New York is preparing to legalize sports betting in four upstate casinos. The casinos are located in Buffalo, Saratoga Springs, Westcott, and Rome. The state is expected to pass legislation in the coming months that will allow for sports betting at these locations. The revenue from sports betting is expected to be used to fund state education and infrastructure projects.

Democrats push ahead with hearings on Russia probe

By Steve Gaudin
The House Intelligence Committee is pushing ahead with its hearings on the Russia probe. The committee is expected to hold several more hearings in the coming weeks, focusing on the activities of Russian agents and the role of the Trump administration. The hearings are being held in a public format, allowing for live testimony and questioning.
